Inclusion? Leave it to CABOLO®

Just being there isn't enough

Noise, accents, different languages, and difficult topics can distract the audience. If your event isn't inclusive, participants will be less engaged and less likely to interact.

Live subtitling might be tricky

Encoders, mixers, streamers, captioning software, systems to configure and set up: making an event accessible requires expertise, equipment, and a budget that increases with every additional venue.

Subtitle all your events using just one device

No need to set up systems in series, no need to plan connections or link-ups.

CABOLO® Subtitle integrates into your audio-video workflow and works with what you already have: any camera, microphone or professional system.

Plug in, connect the audio-video, add subtitles.

Every word, for every person

With CABOLO® Subtitle, inclusion is an integral part of the event.

Real-time subtitles in the auditorium, during live streams and in recordings. People with hearing impairments, those following the event in another language, those at the back of the auditorium or watching remotely can read what is being said as it is spoken.

With real-time insights, anyone who misses a bit can catch up on the key points straight away.

PRO

The magic box that makes things easier

Subtitling that works straight away. Just plug it in, connect the audio and video, and start subtitling. No network configuration, no installation: everything you need is already in your magic box.

A single device, from microphone to subtitled video.

USE CASES

Where every word is important.

CONFERENCES AND EVENTS

Live subtitles for everyone in the room

From a single presentation to multi-room conferences: live subtitles, live streaming to participants and high-quality captioning. Real-time insights highlight key points as the event progresses, so anyone joining once the session has started can catch up in an instant. Just one control room, no subscription required.

EDUCATION AND TRAINING

Inclusive lessons, fully recorded and accessible

Universities and training centres meet their accessibility requirements by providing live lectures with subtitles. Real-time insights highlight key concepts as the lecture progresses: anyone who misses a point can catch up straight away, and recordings with searchable captions facilitate asynchronous learning.

BROADCASTING AND STREAMING

Professional production with a single device

For broadcasters, studios and streaming services: EIA 608/708 closed captions, multiple AV outputs, an integrated video mixer and a comprehensive archive. A complete captioning solution, all in a single device.

LEGAL AND PUBLIC SECTOR

When confidentiality is a fundamental requirement

The CABOLO® offline solution is ideal for courts, parliaments and government bodies: live subtitles, accessible transcripts and indexed archives, all created in-house, entirely on-premises.

Forty years of speech intelligence, in one unique device.

For over 40 years, we have been at the forefront of speech technology. Today, CABOLO® brings that expertise into a single offline, AI-powered device, trusted by public and private sector organisations to protect what is said, and unlock what it means.
